

Timelines ...for the year end!

The year is coming to an end and we are all working on year end activities. Here's a great idea - a timeline activity. Simply create a timeline with your students, and reflect on all the memories from the school year - be a special occasion, favorite lesson, school trip, fundraiser, etc. Have them choose one for each month! They can write a few sentences to explain and draw a picture to go along with it.

It's a great activity giving students the opportunity to reflect on their year, share memories with their peers and to let you, the teacher, know how the year went.

You can really take this activity anywhere - make it all different shapes and sizes, for any and every occasion. Timelines are great for reflections, family trees, story map, cartoon strip, daily schedule and so much more! Be sure to check back often as we are in the process of creating all of that and more for you!
